Metamark. The Materials Company.

Metamark is one of the world's most influential specialist self-adhesive materials manufacturers and one of its most progressive brands. We supply our products to the visual communication industries the world over and we're a growing force in automotive, architectural and other markets. For over thirty years, our products have helped our customers stay at the leading edge of the industries they serve. We operate mindful of our responsibility to the environment and those around us. We're accredited to ISO standards and driven to perform.

Where abouts you'll find us...

Metamark products are everywhere you look, growing markets and enabling customers the world over. They are specified by leading brands and discerning producers everywhere. They are used in applications as diverse as signs and graphics production to automotive paint protection, and architectural transformation to out-of-home-advertising.

This is about Metamark. It's about what we make. It's about how we make it. It's about our environmental and social responsibility, and it's about the markets we enable and grow and the technologies we develop.

Our products.

From our state-of-the-art UK manufacturing facility, Metamark designs, manufactures and supplies specialist self-adhesive materials that are used to make the signage and graphics you see everywhere. We make and supply the best digitally printable and self-coloured films for visual communication applications used in market sectors that include signage, fleet vehicle branding and advertising, rail livery and graphics, automotive aesthetic and protection and architectural surface enhancement among many others.

Part of the manmade landscape that surround us, our products direct, advertise and inform, and are made available by a network of technically adept distribution partners.

Growing Applications...

Vehicle Wrapping

Vehicle wrapping is a specialisation that's growing on all fronts - creative, technical and commercial. Metamark wrapping materials are there at the leading edge and continuing to set the pace. Our wrapping films embody technical features that make them easier to handle and which ensure they exceed the needs of commercial and premium wrapping applications. Benchmark setting performance is delivered as standard with every roll.

Fleet and Rail Livery and Advertising

Metamark materials are specified by leading rail companies, vehicle fleet operators and transport advertisers. Our materials are not just proven and trusted to perform in the most demanding application environments, they're covered by MetaSure™ our easily managed warranty programme. Our materials offer the planet a better deal too. Livery production waste and recovered graphics and materials can all be recycled through Metamark's MetaStream® recycling process.

Paint Protection

Pride and Joy meets Trust and Performance when you protect premium vehicle finishes using Metamark engineered paint protection films. Our MetaCut® templating software ensures a perfect fit and finish, and its database is continually updated to reflect new vehicle introductions. We protect what we value. Trust Metamark PPF to protect the world's most desirable, premium automotive paint finishes.

Tools and Ceramic Coatings

Metamark offers a complete range of application tools and coatings for use with its paint protection and wrapping films. Our Ceramic Coatings deliver water beading protection and a shield that helps deflect anything the environment can throw. Wrap and protection professionals need an edge and get it with Metamark.

Growing Markets...

Architectural Transformation

Metamark Interior Architectural Film, MiA™, enables breathtaking transformations and extends the useful life of doors, furniture, partitions and other interior infrastructure that would be costly and disruptive to replace. The possibilities are easy to imagine and easier still to deliver with Metamark's other architectural film ranges too. Our Décor range is digitally printable allowing fast and affordable mural-scale customisation of walls and floors and other surfaces.

Window and Glazing Manifestation

Metamark window and glazing manifestation products help deliver improved aesthetics, advertising and branding messages, security, privacy and environmental benefits anywhere there's a window or glazed panel. Our window and glazing products find opportunities everywhere in domestic and commercial applications enabling bigger and more energised markets for our customers and partners.

Retail and Commercial

Signage and graphics power retail advertising and Metamark products enable the visual communication industries that supply them all. Our products are behind the promotion of the biggest brands on the High Street. Small businesses with big ideas rely on Metamark materials to get the message out. Metamark is everywhere there's a business to identify and a message to advertise.

Vehicle Conspicuity

Our UK Chevrons markings ensure that vehicles are seen in poor weather conditions with unmistakable clarity. Our films offer the best in R3B, R2, and Engineering Grade Performance and the kits we supply are both easy to install and durable in the extreme. We don't just meet highway regulations standards - we meet our own supply and service standards too.

Our Sustainable Journey.

Metamark isn't just in tune with its customers' and markets' needs. Our Environmental and Social Governance (ESG) policies recognise our responsibilities toward the planet, our employees' and partners' wellbeing and our operations and business ethics. We're advancing on all fronts. We generate our own electricity. We recycle our own production waste and ever more of our customers'. We buy raw materials from the best companies and we endeavour to be the best too. We ensure the safety of our people. Metamark is a grown up and responsible business. We get business done - the best way we know how.

Looking to the future.

Metamark has a great legacy to contemplate but has its eyes on the future. We're focussed on growth. We plan to supply more product, to more customers in more markets.

We're going to leverage our resources and competencies to drive scale by growing the markets we supply, introducing new products that enable new business opportunities.

UK Manufacturing

When you order materials from Metamark you get something other distributors can't give you - a manufacturer's expertise. Our manufacturing expertise is built around state-of-the-art, custom designed and built UK production plant using proprietary manufacturing controls and our own processes. We insist on the best raw material available worldwide. Look for Metamark on the liner and you know you're getting Metamark manufactured material from The Materials Company.

Our Technologies

Metamark invents and innovates to keep its products and the customers who use them a generation ahead. The result is a leading-edge portfolio that delivers the full production potential of today's faster and smarter print-production and conversion hardware. Our state-of-the-art manufacturing systems and proprietary processes deliver optimal yields from every resource our business consumes. Innovations that we continue to pioneer define today's visual communications and allied industries and our faculty for invention keeps us at the forefront.

Our Certifications

Metamark has earned and maintains compliance with the most rigorous standards that hold us and our industry to account operational excellence, environmental impact and product quality. Our own standards often exceed those that are mandated and we ruthlessly pursue improvement opportunities wherever they're identified.

Metamark is registered to the following quality standards.
